JASPER SCHOOL NOTES.

The Freshman class had a party at the school house Friday night. The members of the class who were unable to attend invited somebody to go in their place. The girls wore aprons and the boys overalls.

Last week was the beginning of the second quarter. Many were pleasantly, while many were sorrowfully, surprised when they received their grade cards. The teachers were proud to say they had to give no failures while the pupils were equally glad to receive none.

The student assembly last Wednesday was conducted by Superintendent Thomas. Several verses were read from the Bible and a number of songs were sung.

The Sophomores held a wiener roast Friday. Each member of the class was allowed to invite someone.

A fire drill has been perfected again this year and the school has practised it once.

Jasper debating team is working hard for their contest with the Golden City High School which will be held here November 24.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

There were 119 at Sunday School, 23 at Junior League and 35 at Epworth League and a goodly number at the evening preaching service considering the inclement weather. The Rev. R. N. Jones of Lamar preached for us, using as his text 1 Cor. 13, 13. Miss Marguerite Teeter sang, "The Old Rugged Cross."

The contest which has been on in the Epworth League; with Evelyn Bowers and Elmo Maize as leaders of the different sides, closed Sunday night with Miss Bowers' side slightly in the lead. Mr. Maize and a committee of his followers are planning to entertain the winners in the near future. Mrs. Hall will be the leader next Sunday night.

The W. H. M. S. met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Clint Rand. Much interest is being shown in the new study course.

The Uthais will meet Thursday afternoon with Mesdames Bayne, Boucher and Arner as hostesses at their rooms.

RESTAURANT AMERICAN

"Scrambled eggs," ordered a customer in a city market restaurant. "Milk toast," murmured his companion, who was not feeling well.

"Scramble two and a grave yard stew," sang out the waitress with the Titian hair.

"Here," corrected the second man, "I want milk toast."

"You'll get it Buddy," replied the girl. "That's what they call milk toast down in Pittsburg, where I worked."

The two customers held a conference and decided to "put one over" on the "fresh young thing" from Pittsburg. The first one wanted a glass of milk and the second a cup of black coffee.

When the girl appeared to put a "set up" of the restaurant artillery in front of the men the second man gave the following order:

"A bottle of lacteal fluid for my friend and a scuttle of Java with no sea foam for me."

"Chalk one an' a dipper of ink," shouted the girl. She didn't even grin.—The Arklight.

Mother Got the Letter.

One time when I was going to grammar school I was in love with a boy—who was much older than I. One time he wrote me a letter in school, saying he loved me. Of course I cherished that letter; so I put it in my pocket. Next day was wash day. My mother found the letter and told my dad. Well, you know the rest.—Chicago Journal.

Near the Danger Line.

Mary had been naughty, and her father reproved her rather severely, threatening to do something worse if she acted so again. Later, when Mary was visiting her grandmother, she was asked what had happened that day. Feeling sure of a sympathetic listener, the child replied wistfully: "Well, I guess I almost fell off the edge of a whipping."

On the Farm.

Once the farmer swathed his wheat with the cradle and raked and bound it by hand. Then the horse-drawn reaper appeared, then the McCormick binder, and finally the great mechanical tractors of the present, each of which haul two binders. Once, also, the antiquated flail "resounded from morning to night" on the best of the farms. Then horses were used to tread on the straw, and then came the treadmill thrasher, the last of which went out some fifteen years ago. Today tractor threshers do the work.

Figures in Wood.

Figures in wood have various sources. These may be grouped in those due to structure, those caused by color variation or pigmentation, and to combination of the two, says the American Forestry Magazine. These again may be classified as normal and abnormal or pathologic. By normal is meant the natural condition of the wood of a sound tree. In the abnormal or pathologic are to be found the peculiar distortions and colorations resulting from disease, the attacks of insects and activities of various agencies not a part of the regular life processes of the trees.

An event so great in size—involving thousands of dollars' worth of new goods—as will arouse the amazement of the retail community of this entire section of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. An event establishing low price levels on new wanted merchandise beyond the dream of the buying public and such as the average merchant could not hope to achieve.

This sale marks the culmination of months of intense effort by an organization whose sales exceed that of any retail institution in this section of the country.

All of our sources of supply have contributed their quota. Manufacturers have ignored their costs. We have priced the offerings in many instances almost on a cost basis. Special purchases aggregating thousands of dollars have been made.

The aim of this store has been to achieve the presentation of the season's newest merchandise, meeting the entire list of requirements for person and for home, at savings that will reach up to one-half the ordinary prices that would prevail at this time.
